

We are strongly opposed to allowing telemarketing, campaigning or soliciting by organizations or businesses to use ringless voicemail. To label this “not a call” is a sham. As it stands now we can largely ignore unwanted calls from unknown sources. If this practice is allowed we will have to listen to a portion of a message or otherwise take time with it. We consider this practice to be a further erosion of privacy and an imposition.